The course also covers designing security in communications, besides all the software and hardware required in the communication domain.

About the Seminar:

Advancements in the Field of Instrumentation have led to the development of sensors, a magnetic device that expands the range of potential applications for control and instrumentation in a variety of contexts. The field of magnetic sensors deals with the advances in that category of sensors, hardware devices, and how to put into various sorts of applications in control and instrumentation field.

Effective design of an magnetic field sensor requires the selection of a proper magnetic material that enables the desired sensor features and sensing patterns besides controlling the whole system and power consumption.

We cordially invite the students, research scholars, Faculties, Industrial persons to explore the various areas of research and to enhance research skill and to enlighten those around you.
