CARRIER ORIENTED COURSES ON INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGN AND PRESENTATION SKILL

OBJECTIVES

- to enable you to use the English that you know appropriately in discussions and speeches--that is, to build your confidence;
- to help you recognize and work toward correcting the most noticeable non-native features of your English;
- to give you practice in planning, organizing, and executing presentations to small groups;
- to give you practice in anticipating and responding appropriately to your audience's questions and comments.

SYLLABUS

Attend class regularly, missing no more than 10% for any reason. Prepare and present the assignment for each week. Unless otherwise directed, submit an outline or other notes on the presentation prior to delivering it. Review the videotape of each presentation, analyzing it according to a specific form which will be provided. Review a video recording of at least three of your presentations with the instructor. Be a cooperative and attentive audience member when others are presenting.

Pronunciation. A basic overview of the sounds of English and stress, rhythm, and intonation. Overview of the process of developing a presentation. Analysis of speakers and speaking styles. The parts of a presentation: introduction, body, and conclusion. Practice with common presentation types. Using visuals (e.g., PowerPoint) effectively. Materials. There is no textbook for the course. Some materials will be passed out in class and others will be available online through the class website.
